

Expedition Communications HTS Exede Data Allowance Policy

READ THIS AGREEMENT CAREFULLY BEFORE USING THE EXPEDITION COMMUNICATIONS HTS EXEDE ISP SERVICE.

Our goal is to give each of our customers the fastest service at the lowest price. To ensure that all Expedition Communications HTS Exede customers have equitable access to the network and that heavy usage by a small number of customers does not negatively impact the network performance for all customers, Expedition Communications and Viasat utilize a data allowance policy (the "Policy"). This Policy explains what happens when you use the maximum amount of data included in your plan. ViaSat HTS Exede Internet access is not guaranteed and is subject to this Policy.

We measure your data usage on a monthly basis and reset it to zero on the same day each month. Starting on the first day of your monthly measurement period, all uploaded and downloaded data transmitted using your HTS Exede Internet service.

If your data usage reaches 100% or more of your monthly data allowance, you agree to pay for all additional increments of overage data used during the remainder of your measurement period. Actual monthly billing will be the base monthly plan price plus any usage in excess of the included data.
